

2008 BEYE PTO FOREIGN LANGUAGE PROGRAM PROGRAM DESCRIPTION – REGISTRATION FORM

Program:

The Foreign Language Instruction Program (FLIP) is a tuition-based, extra-curricular activity offered to all grades at Beye School. FLIP teachers expose your child to Spanish, German, French, and Mandarin (Chinese) through games, songs, and classroom discussions. FLIP is administered by the Beye PTO through parent volunteers who serve on the FLIP committee – please consider volunteering a few hours of your time to assist with our committee’s work.

This Session:

Mandarin has a new teacher Hai Tao Huang. He has a degree in music performance and teaches music theory and trumpet at UIC. He has taught Mandarin Chinese at Lincoln School for the dipast two and one half years. The Lincoln program has doubled the number of students studying Mandarin in the last year. His classes focus on reading, writing, speaking and listening.

Olga Callupe from Peru will teach near immersion Spanish based on manual and practical arts. She has an affiliation with John Cabral and Espanol Del Juan.

Orly Slobodkin has a masters degree in French literature from the Sorbonne in Paris and teaches French using the method of “total physical response.”

Lisa Peters returns as German teacher. She has taught at Beye and at various PTO sponsored language programs for many years.
